

Blue-Ribbon Panel

Legal Perspectives on Mobile Location Technology during COVID-19

Friday August 28, 2020

Panelists:

Ms. Stacey Gray, Senior Counsel, Future of Privacy Forum

Mr. Kevin Pomfret, Partner, Williams Mullen

Mr. Jacob Snow, Technology & Civil Liberties Attorney, ACLU of Northern California

.....

Below are the reports, websites and other content discussed during the panel.

Infographic: Understanding the “World of Geolocation Data”, Future of Privacy Forum

Responsible Data Use Playbook for Digital Contact Tracing, Brighthouse

Privacy and Pandemic Series, Future of Privacy Forum

Virus Alters Where People Open Their Wallets, Hinting at a Halting Recovery, The New York Times

Documents Reveal ICE Using Driver Location Data from Local Police for Deportations, ACLU

FBI Expands Ability to Collect Cellphone Location Data, Monitor Social Media, Recent Contracts Show, The Intercept

Quantifying SARS-CoV-2 Transmission Suggests Epidemic Control with Digital Contact Tracing, Science

The Limits of Location Tracking in an Epidemic, ACLU White Paper

Location Tech Task Force

Additional Resources

Big Telecom Sold Highly Sensitive Customer GPS Data Typically Used for 911 Calls, Vice

U.S. Government Contractor Embedded Software in Apps to Track Phones, Wall
Street Journal

[Location Data Brokers Say They Can Help Contain COVID-19. Here's Why That's a
Problem](#), CNET

The ACLU Is Suing Los Angeles over Its Controversial Scooter Tracking System, The Verge